IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

HAD STRONG TONE IN FIRST HOUR

Then Stock Market Began to Slacken a Little.

Principal Stimulus Results From Aggressiveness by the Bull Element.

NEW YORK, June 21.-The stock market opened more active and strong-Brooklyn Rapid Transit and United States Steel preferred rose %. Sugar gained 1 and Smelters % per cent. Union Pacific ruled ½ higher. Reading and Metropolitan Street Railway were heavy, but only nominally lower. Japanese 44s were unchanged.

The market maintained its strength throughout the first hour. London offered some encouragement, but the principal stimulus resulted from the improved sentiment afforded by the recent exhibition of increased aggressive ness on the part of the bull element.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan was bought on a large scale. The action of Reading was considered heavy in view of the fact that the directors meeet to declare the semi-annual dividend today.

London bought about 10,000 shares in the first few minutes the foreign pur-London bought about 10,000 shares in the first few minutes, the foreign purchases at that time being mostly Steel shares. Arbitrage brokers are still buying, and report a better feeling in London. One of the le ding arbitrage brokers estimates London trading as purchases of 20,000 shares and sales of Apparently there has been some important change in the market position of important interests often committed to the bull side.

Government bonds unchanged; railroad and other bonds firm.

Toward the end of the first hour the market slackened and for a short time looked like reacting. There had been enough advance at the time to tempt the traders who bought at the opening to take profits. Ontario and Western was bid up 1½ per cent, and this stimulated the market again, and almost the whole list has made additional gains. Reading is now the only heavy member of the active list. There is substantially five times the business there was on Monday.

case it was agreed that all the market accided was leadership, and any number of facts were cited to prove that assertive direction of the kind desired was at hand. Experienced brokers admitted in confidence that the trading was still largely professional, but insisted that there had been a very encouraging amount of anticipatory buying for investment account. The importance of this new business, they declared, was very properly emphasized out of proportion to its actual percentage of the day's total sales, for the reason that until this week it had been wholly lacking for more months than they liked to recall. Professional activity, they declared, was at least better founded when there was some actual demand for stocks than when there was none at all. In other words, professional Wall Street was quite right in making the top hat brigade pay the highest possible prices for their investments. Some surprise has been expressed this week by men who try to follow the undercurrents of finance that the stock market has paid so little attention to the huge expansion of loans and the thin margin of surplus reserve reported by the New York banks last week. Not even the faintest rumor as to how the twelve men stand has floated out of the jury room. It was reported early this morning that there were six for acquittal and six for conviction, but this could not be traced to anything like a reliable source.
